WHAT'S ALL THIS LOOSE TALK ABOUT TIGHT MONEY

The government's anti-inflation program is certainly no news these days. So much so that it's become a favorite conversation. Everybody, it seems, is talking about "tight money."

Well, just how tight is money, anyway? If you're a giant corporation that wants to borrow several million, it's very tight indeed. But if you're an individual who needs a personal loan for a sound purpose, that's another story. Because despite all the loose talk about tight money, Fidelity has money to lend. You can get it for needed home improvements, taxes or any real family requirement.

So if tight money has you in a bind, come to see us.

Chances are we can help.

MRS. JOHN DOWNING SNEED
the former Miss Sharon Kaye Brown

Vows Exchanged

Miss Sharon Kaye Brown and Mr. John Downing Sneed exchanged wedding vows Saturday, August 29, at four in the afternoon. Dr. Daniel L. Barlow officiated at the double ring ceremony which was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Brown of Rosedale. The groom is the son of Mrs. John L. Sneed of Richmond, formerly of Appomattox, and the late Mr. Sneed.

The wedding vows were exchanged before a background of gold candelabra with lighted white tapers and baskets of white and yellow gladioli and mums. Centerpieces of white and yellow wedding flowers throughout the house completed the wedding decorations.

Classical wedding music included romantic piano concertos of Greig, Rachmanioff, Tchaikovsky, and Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik."

The bride wore a traditional formal wedding gown of white bridal crepe. Venice lace and seed pearls adorned the semi-empire bodice and edged the full skirt. The gown had a scooped neckline and long sleeves gathered and fastened at the wrists with small pearl buttons. The floor-length bridal illusion veil, which was bordered with venice lace, was attached to a white crepe bow covered with lace motifs and seed pearls. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds, white french carnations, and baby's breath. The bride's gown and veil were fashioned by the bride and made by the bride and the bride's mother.

Former college roommate of the bride, Miss Trudy Londeree of Charlottesville, served as the maid of honor. Miss Betty Sneed of Richmond, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid. The attendants' gowns were yellow crepe with embroidered flowers accenting the semi-empire bodices. The floor-length dresses had scooped necklines and short cap sleeves. The headpieces were matching yellow crepe bows. The attendants carried bouquets of five yellow long-stem roses tied with yellow ribbon streamers. The bridesmaids' gowns were fashioned by the bride and made by the groom's mother.

Mr. Robert Sneed of Richmond served his brother as best man. Mr. Joseph Street of Honaker, cousin of the bride, was the other groomsman. Brother of the bride, Mr. Eddie Brown of Rosedale, lighted the candles before the ceremony.

The mother of the bride wore a light brown knit dress accented with a single strand of pearls and brown accessories. The groom's mother wore a powder blue dress with navy accessories. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

The bride's parents entertained with a reception immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white hand-crocheted tablecloth belonging to the bride's maternal grandmother. The white three-tiered wedding cake was topped with yellow icing roses. Miss Jane Snyder of Newport News, Mrs. William Leath of Charlottesville, and aunts of the bride and groom, Mrs. Joan Street of Honaker and Mrs. Robert Newbill of Lynchburg, served at the reception table. Miss Sharon Herald of Rosedale served at the bride's book.

The bride was graduated with honors in history from Longwood College. The groom was an honor graduate in economics from the University of Virginia. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sneed will begin graduate study at the University of Minnesota this fall. The couple will be at home after September 15 in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

The mother of the groom entertained with a rehearsal dinner at Mullins Restaurant on Friday evening, August 28. The bride was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower given by Mrs. Charles R. King of Rosedale on Saturday, Aug. 22.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buchanan of Appomattox, Mr. Wayne Buchanan of Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newbill of Lynchburg, and Mr. and Mrs. William Leath of Charlottesville; also, Miss Jane Snyder of Newport News, Mr. George Hill of Chevy Chase, Maryland, and Mr. Steve Voss of Ann Arbor, Michigan.
